March
2012

In 2000 the idea for Harlequin Wines was conceived by Martin Bayne and Richard Goodacre specially to establish a means of finding and selling wine to a discerning wine lover.

With a simple philosophy of searching long and hard to find the new, the unusual and the delightful we could ensure quality and value by dealing direct with the wine-makers.

After the first year Richard needed to spend more time with his University job and other interests. He left, and Harlequin Wines grew year on year. He can still be relied on to give advice if required.

To celebrate the 12th Anniversary all orders placed before the end of March 2012 will attract a 12% discount off the listed price, see our web site for our full list of wines.
